

This layer of graupel, small ball-bearing pellets, is 30-60 cm under the surface in Cooke City and was responsible for some avalanches over the weekend. Graupel bonds quickly because of its round shape and this instability will not last long. Photo: J. Schutz

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Cooke City, 2018-03-12