

From the Yellowstone Club Ski Patrol, " ...we noted 2 natural avalanches along one of our roads. They both are at about 7000ft and had a relatively shallow snowpack. The crowns were roughly 2ft in depth and ran on facets near the ground. One slide looks like it released during the yesterday's storm and the other appears to have gone either overnight or this morning." Photo: YCSP

Advisory Region
Northern Madison

Avalanche Details: Natural avalanches in and around YC

