

Wolverine Cirque

1/26/2019

East Aspect

A group with the MSU advanced avalanches class found multiple slab avalanches that released at various times during this week's storm. Three of the slides ran for a large portion of their slide path. This debris pile was from an avalanche that likely failed Friday morning, and was large enough to break small trees in the slide path. Ski tracks nearby suggest this avalanche was skier-triggered. Photo: A. Schauer

Advisory Region

Bridger Range

Longitude

-110.94W

Latitude

45.84N

Avalanche Details: Avalanches North of Bridger Bowl

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Sun Jan 27, 2019

Bridger Range, 2019-01-26