

I took out my binoculars from our cabin on the west shore of Island Park Reservoir and noticed this huge slide in the bowl south of Reas peak. Started at the little tree band below the ridge, takes out 1/3 of the bowl, and runs into the Blue Creek terrain trap. I assume this is a natural as I don't see tracks (hard to see in this light). Photo: M Elstad

Advisory Region

Island Park

Longitude

-111.51W

Latitude

44.54N

Avalanche Details: Reas Peak - Natural Avalanche

Island Park, 2020-02-04