

From obs: "On our way out to fairy lake we stopped in the open meadow just before the campground and noticed a sizeable natural avalanche on a northfacing slope that appeared to have broken on the layer of sugary facets on the ground. From our perspective it appeared to have happened a few days ago likely after the loading event midweek." Photo: E. Marcoux

Advisory Region Bridger Range Longitude -110.98W Latitude 45.91N Avalanche Details: Natural avalanche near Fairy Lake Bridger Range, 2021-01-11